Blackout disrupts flights at NAIA-3

By RUBY SAMPAN

Five international flights were delayed by a five-hour blackout that disrupted operations at the Ninoy Aquino International Airport (NAIA) on Wednesday.

NAIA-3 managers Christine Lina said that 11 Manila Airlines (MNL) flights were canceled that night because the terminal failed just a day before the scheduled maintenance deadline.

The airport had 30 generators to supply electricity to the terminal building and the terminal and related facilities.

However, employees complained that the generators failed to supply enough power to operate the passenger lobby and the processing area and the mobile mobile terminal in the end and the power outage.

The five-hour blackout affected the domestic Cebu Pacific flight to Bohol, South Korea and other flights that arrived from Jakarta, Hong Kong, and other cities.

The passengers had to wait through the terminal to get into the terminal and the power was not too late.

NAIA-3 closed to airlines to allow the terminal to be repaired and the terminal was closed to airlines to allow the terminal to be repaired.

It took about 12 hours to get the terminal to be repaired.

North Korea agrees to suspend nuke work

WASHINGTON (AP) — North Korea has agreed to suspend all long-range missile and nuclear work, a move that is seen as a breakthrough in negotiations with the United States, which is seen as a positive step in the talks.

The agreement was announced Thursday by the two negotiators, who said that the two sides had agreed to suspend all long-range missile and nuclear work for the next 90 days.

Coming just one day after the death of longtime leader Kim Jong Il, it signals a willingness by the North Korean government to engage in talks with the U.S. and to suspend all long-range missile and nuclear work for the next 90 days.

The U.S. Secretary of State (John) Clinton said that the U.S. is "pleased to see" the North Korean government's decision to suspend all long-range missile and nuclear work for the next 90 days.

In a similar statement, North Korea said it had agreed to suspend all long-range missile and nuclear work for the next 90 days. The U.S. is seen as a positive step in the talks.

Mineral production up 9% to P122.15B in 2011

By MARJORIE V. DELA

Philippine mineral production value posted a nine percent growth last year to P122.15 billion, according to the Bureau of Economic Development and Statistics (Beds).

The increase in value was attributed to higher output of steel, copper, chromite ore and iron-ore concentrates, and a moderate decline in gold due to a moderate decline in the global market for the metal.

According to the Bureau of Economic Development and Statistics, the increase in value in mineral production value in 2011 was due to a moderate increase in the value of steel.

The average monthly value of steel output, which accounted for 19 percent of the total value, was up 10 percent from 2010 to 2011.

Gold production, which accounted for 10 percent of the total value, was up 10 percent from 2010 to 2011.

San Lorenzo Place: CBD Living Made Accessible

There's a lot to like in Dan Lusk's new novel, These Days (Knopf), which may not draw you in as much. But the novel's main characters are so lovely that it's hard to stop an affectionate reader, especially in the early parts, from seeing the novel as a love letter to the world. I say "novel" because it's not a novel, it's a series of loosely connected vignettes that focus on the lives of people who live in a place called New York.

NLEX-SLEX CONNECTOR ROAD PROJECT

JICA says Metro Pacific plan superior; SMC, Citra say theirs is better

By RANDY ILLAN TORRES and MARY ANN L. NEVILA

A senior executive of the Metro Pacific Express (MPEX) said that the proposed road project to extend the North Luzon Expressway (NLEX) to the South Luzon Expressway (SLEX) is the best way to connect the two roads.

Representing MPEX at the recent meeting was Metro Pacific Express President and Chief Executive Officer (CEO) John S. Sison.

This was countered by the San Diego-based SMC-Citra, which pointed out that its plan would provide a faster and more direct route to the SLEX.

SMC-Citra, which is a joint venture of SMC and Citra, said that its plan is the best way to connect the two roads. It also pointed out that its plan would provide a faster and more direct route to the SLEX.

SMC-Citra also pointed out that its plan would provide a faster and more direct route to the SLEX. It also pointed out that its plan would provide a faster and more direct route to the SLEX.

Valenzuela City shines brightest as a Meralco Luminary

Mayor Sherwin Gatchalian, along with city officials, has made it easy to do business in Valenzuela City.

Business is a dynamic environment. The world is constantly evolving, and businesses must adapt to survive. In the Philippines, the business environment is constantly changing, and businesses must adapt to survive. In the Philippines, the business environment is constantly changing, and businesses must adapt to survive.

One of the main reasons for this is the rapid pace of technological change. Businesses must invest in research and development to stay ahead of the competition. Another reason is the increasing competition from both local and foreign companies.

Through our partnership with Meralco, we have been able to provide our customers with the best service possible. We have invested in state-of-the-art equipment and technology to ensure that our customers receive the highest quality service.

Bea giggles her way to stardom

It takes a pretty young face and an infectious giggle to make a star out of a girl. Bea Alonzo, 25, is the perfect example. The former beauty queen got her start in the entertainment industry after being crowned Miss Philippines Earth 2006. She has since played her way to stardom, appearing in several hit movies and TV shows.

Bea's career has taken off since she won the Miss Philippines Earth 2006 title. She has since played her way to stardom, appearing in several hit movies and TV shows.

GMA wins civil suit vs ex exec

The National Telecommunications Commission (NTC) has ruled in favor of GMA Network Co. (GMA) in a civil suit filed by the network against former GMA executive and NTC member Ramon S. Alunan Jr. The NTC found that Alunan Jr. had violated the network's policies.

Alunan Jr. was found to have violated the network's policies by using his position to influence the network's operations. The NTC ordered Alunan Jr. to pay damages to GMA.

The NTC's decision is a landmark ruling for the network, as it establishes that executives must follow the network's policies.

If you're like me, following the comic book industry closely you would have noticed the tremendous "superhero" crossover event and publicized 20-year battle with Mary Jane Watson (aka Spider-Man) and Iron Man and DC Comics. The effort was huge (and expensive) for both publishers and their readers. Both comic series around the world (and in the Philippines) have been following the superhero and comic book industry, and the "crossover" event was a big deal. The independent comic publisher promises to put up a fight against Marvel and DC Comics. And they might just win.

For general population, superhero characters are a big deal. If you subscribe to any of the major comic book publishers, you'll find a lot of superhero characters. And if you're a fan of the genre, you'll find a lot of superhero characters. And if you're a fan of the genre, you'll find a lot of superhero characters.

But for the independent comic publisher, the superhero characters are just a means to an end. They are a way to get the attention of the general population. And they are a way to get the attention of the general population.

For most people, blogging is a way to express their thoughts and feelings. It's a way to share their experiences and opinions with the world. It's a way to connect with others and build a community.

But for some people, blogging is a way to make a living. It's a way to turn their passion into a profession. It's a way to build a business and generate income. It's a way to become a successful entrepreneur.

And for some people, blogging is a way to make a difference. It's a way to raise awareness about important issues and inspire others to take action. It's a way to become a social activist.

The age of blog moguls have taken blogging to all sort of directions, but some have headed to nowhere in particular — and the trajectory's hit a plateau.

There's no denying it, the blogosphere is a vast and complex world. It's a place where anyone can voice their opinions and share their experiences. It's a place where anyone can become a famous blogger.

Ugly or pretty? (or The Great Fishing Expedition)

By NINGGO SALLAGA

Y ou're probably not the only one who's ever been asked, "Are you ugly or pretty?" It's a question that's been asked for as long as there have been people. And it's a question that's still being asked today.

A young woman posing for a photo.

For some reason, teens worldwide are asking YouTube to tell them if they're ugly or pretty. A tragic case of low self-esteem or just fishing?

It's a question that's been asked for as long as there have been people. And it's a question that's still being asked today.
